The year 1990 was a pivotal period for Europe. The Cold War was drawing to a close, with the fall of the Berlin Wall in November 1989 symbolizing a seismic shift in geopolitical boundaries and ideological divides. Many Eastern European countries were transitioning from communist regimes to democratic governments, while Western Europe was undergoing profound shifts in social and economic policies. This turbulence and optimism created fertile ground for artists and cultural institutions to reflect on Europe's identity, future, and shared history.
